Speakers

Wahida Ashiq
Founder of 93½

Wahida is the founder of the UK’s only PR agency to specialise in helping UK brands get noticed in China. She has been arch-strategist in helping, amongst others, HM Revenue and Customs get their messages heard across mainland China, introducing China Telecom to the West and working with the Bank of China to launch a range of consumer financial products.

As a PR expert she has a keen eye on the digital revolution happening in China with all its contradictions, hype and opportunities. E-commerce, online networking and blogging in China is certainly growing in popularity and defining the business landscape. However, the market is horribly over-saturated as Chinese entrepreneurs, good and bad, flock to grab a piece of the new world but along the way some are forgetting they need a compelling offering and even more compelling marketing. Wahida is by no means a techie but will be sharing her knowledge, as a digital PR expert in China, what’s hot, what’s not and where tomorrow’s buck might be.

Bruno Bensaid
Founder and Managing Director of Shanghaivest Ltd

Shanghaivest is a boutique Financial Advisory firm providing fund raising consulting, strategic business development and M&A support to Chinese and European technology companies. Bruno is also the founder of the Shanghai Chapter of MobileMonday, the premier mobile industry community and mobile-centric event organizer worldwide. MobileMonday Shanghai has attracted more than 3,000 members since its inception in 2006.

Since 2006, Bruno devotes his time coaching Chinese TMT startups as well as European VC funds (and their portfolio companies). Bruno worked on several M&A and operations in the social networking, online advertising and e-commerce fields in 2006-2008, which included a short stint at Ventech, a French VC firm which Bruno helped set up a China presence. Since launching Shanghaivest mid 2008, Bruno has facilitated fund raising at several local startups in e-commerce, internet and telecom value-added services. Bruno is a regular speaker and moderator at local and international mobile and internet conferences, such as GSMA Mobile World Congress, Ad:tech, WCIT, Mobile 2.0 etc. Bruno sits on the Asia advisory board of Ad:tech, leader in digital marketing conferences.

Martin Bloom
Investor, UK China Venture Capital; Founder, Bloom&Tse

Martin helps build the high growth companies of tomorrow through a combination of mentoring entrepreneurs and senior management, joining the Boards of companies to assist them in creating and driving forward their strategies, and by investing in private companies that have high growth potential. He was a former corporate strategist at Unilever and has 25 years experience in strategic partnering, technology commercialisation and business strategy. He is also a founder member of the innovative next-generation creative business agency Bloom & Tse that assists in building the businesses of the 21st Century.

Martin has a B.Sc. (Soc.Sc.) Honours in Economics from the University of Southampton and an M.Sc. in the History of Science jointly from Imperial College and University College, London.

Sam Michel
CEO, Chinwag
Sam was one of the UK’s first full-time webmasters for Time Out magazine, executive producer of the award-nominated movie website, Popcorn.co.uk, for Carlton plc and has consulted on email and digital marketing projects for clients including MSN, BBC and World Wildlife Fund. Sam’s work with Chinwag also includes the development of the Digital Mission with UK Trade & Investment, a trade mission specifically designed for digital companies looking to expand into the US market. He speaks and writes regularly about the digital economy, communities that evolve around social media and digital marketing.

Sam founded Chinwag in 1996, as a hub for those working in the digital marketing industry. Since its inception Chinwag has grown from a single email discussion list, uk-netmarketing, to become the UK’s leading community for new media and digital marketing professionals. The company has grown to include leading recruitment website, Chinwag Jobs, the viral marketing announcement service, Viralmonitor, Chinwag Live, a series of informal, friendly Q&A sessions as well as discussion lists covering design, usability, and wireless marketing.

1982-1997: Engineer of MPT of China, telecom infrastructure planning and specification formulation;

2002 - Current: President, China Academy of Telecommunication Research of the Ministry of Industry and Information Technology, P. R. China
The Chinwag community is a focal point for digital media practitioners in the UK and beyond. We aggregate expertise, fact and opinion, and act as a connecting rod for ideas and talent across the new media industries.

Chinwag started life in 1996 and fast became renowned for its discussion lists, including uk-netmarketing and Viralmonitor, two of the most popular discussion forums for the digital industry.

Today, Chinwag offers a wide range of services:

DIGITAL MISSION
In 2008, Chinwag was selected by UK Trade & Investment (UKTI) to undertake two trade missions with a series of supporting activity for industries in the digital industry looking to expand into the US market. Dubbed ‘Digital Mission’ (http://digital-mission.org) the trip to New York in Sep 2008 was hugely successful leading to several deals for the companies involved and is being followed with a Digital Mission to South by South West interactive in March 2009.

The latter features 35 of the UK’s top digital firms selected by a panel of industry experts. Further work with UKTI includes full-day conferences looking at the opportunities for digital firms to expand into India & China. Further Digital Mission events are planned for 2009 with other activity helping to support the UK’s burgeoning digital sector.

COMMUNITY
The Chinwag.com (http://www.chinwag.com) site is an aggregator and focal point for professionals working in digital. In tandem with the Chinwag Live events series, sister-site Chinwag Jobs launched in January 2006 and along with our presence across the web on Twitter, Facebook, Flickr, Linked In, Plaxo, Upcoming and elsewhere, the Chinwag community operates as a connecting rod for advancing the digital industries. Keep up-to-date with all things Chinwag through the Chinwag Announce newsletter or the Chinwag News blog (RSS).

CHINWAG LIVE
Through its informal monthly panel discussions, Chinwag Live aims to cast light on trends and issues across the web, mobile and broader interactive media industries, maximising community input and podcasting all sessions. Chinwag also publishes the definitive list of digital industry events taking place in the UK with selected international events, supported with a regular event newsletter. (http://www.chinwag.com/events)

CHINWAG JOBS
Designed to slice through clutter for both those on the look out for a new role and recruiters with vacancies to fill in the digital sector, Chinwag Jobs works in tandem with users to streamline the search and the selection process. http://jobs.chinwag.com
